

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

5.1. Conclusion

Based on the result of data analysis in this study, Elicitation model is one of the learning techniques that allow the students work in pairs. It is a learning model when the students work pairs and orally exchange the main idea from the material learning. Elicitation technique allows the students exchanging information they got from material learning orally. This learning technique is really suitable for speaking class because speaking is about sharing or exchanging idea, information or thought orally. Based on the data analysis, conclusions were drawn as the following. There was significant effect of applying elicitation technique on the students' speaking achievement. It was because the average of the student's score increased from pre-test after doing the treatment. Based on the testing of hypothesis, the value of T-test = 2822 and the value of T-table 2069. were the most frequent types used by the teachers in eliciting students to speak. In addition, it was also revealed that the elicitation techniques were employed by the teachers in all the teaching segments. This indicated that the elicitation techniques used by the teachers could motivate students to speak in English.

5.2 Suggestions

The suggestion for the students are they have to participate more in speaking class. They are suggested to enhance their pronunciation, fluency, grammar, vocabulary, and comprehension on speaking English by practicing to speak frequently not only in the class but also outside the class. Outside the class means that they are also expected to practice speaking English on their daily life. This way they can speak more fluently and finally meet the standard based on the curriculum.

The suggestions for the teachers are, they are expected to apply elicitation technique as one of the way to improve their professionalism on teaching the students' need as the guidance , and they are expected to enrich their knowledge related to English teaching model so that they can find the appropriate learning technique for the students

The suggestion for the reader, the result will be useful in order that they can use it in teaching learning process, to make the students more interested in studying English
