

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTIONS

In this chapter the writer would like to sum up the whole discussion of the pervious chapters especially chapter four and ends up with the suggestion. Therefore, this chapter consist of counclusion and suggestion which may useful for the readers.

5.1 Conclusion

In conclusion, the children in the age of 3-5 years old have shown the act in their speech. The type of illocutionary act of directive, commissive, assertive, and expressive are already appeared in the speech of those children. However, those children who are different by their age have not used the illocutionary act of declaration yet and they use the directive more often. Since, their egocentric thinking predominates.

The communication strategy which is used most by the children in the age of 3-5 years is bald on record strategy. They usually utter something explicitly. Even though, sometimes those children utter something implicitly, yet, they just use in a small portion. The children in the age of 3-5 years old use direct way more often than utter something indirect way because they will get their wants easily.

In conveying their meaning and intention, the children of 3-5 years old are already able sto produce the indirect speech act. This shows that their cognitive develop.

5.2 Suggestion

For the readers who want to analyze children's speech act and communication strategy, they should analize them completely. Therefore, the researcher will be glad if there are some readers who can use this graduating paper for further research. Hopefully, this paper will be expanded the readers' knowledge on linguistics, especially children's speech acts in communication strategies.