

BAB V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTIONS

5.1. Conclusion

After analyzing the data regarding the types of associative meaning in Traditional Poems, the writer concludes that there are five types of associative meaning that used in traditional Poems namely, (1) connotative meaning,(2) Social Meaning, (3) Affective Meaning,(4) Reflected Meaning, and (5) Collocative Meaning. Based on the data analysis the writer found that,the function of associative meaning in this research. Function of Connocative meaning is used to communicate the experience in the real world. The Social meaning function of this meaning is used to deliver the social meaning which appears in language.The function of Affective meaning is to express the emotion, feeling and attitude to a listener. The function of Reflective meaning, in this meaning is used to deliver the new sense of a word that relates to another phenomenon in the same expression. The function Collocative meaning, in meaning is used to convey the associate of words which tend to occur in the environment.

5.2. Suggestions

At the end of the research, there are some suggestions for readers and further researchers:

1. For readers

The writer suggests to the readers that it is better for them to enrich their knowledge in associative meaning and be more careful in catching meaning of each text.

1. Further researchers

The writer hopes that this research can be useful as a guidance, inspiration for the next researchers who are interested in studying meaning especially in analyzing associative meaning in another culture and tradition.